

CARE UNDER PRESSURE 2

interdisciplinary approaches to simulation in health and social care training

Following the success of the first 'Care Under Pressure' symposium in November 2017, we are hosting a further symposium on interdisciplinary approaches to simulation incorporating patient feedback and service user involvement.

The symposium will therefore feature the involvement of patients, service users, students and international leaders in the fields of Simulation Research, Drama, Medical Education and Social Work Education. Participation is free (but must register)

<https://careunderpressure2.eventbrite.com>

INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM
6-7 April 2018

Brian Friel Theatre
20 University Square,
Queen's University Belfast

TIM DORNAN

Professor in Medical Education, QUB.

BRIAN SINGLETON

Samuel Beckett Chair of Theatre and Performance, TCD; Academic
Director of The Lir academy, Ireland's National Academy of Dramatic Art

ACADEMIC
KEY NOTE
SPEAKERS

NANCY MCNAUGHTON

Director, Centre for Learning, Innovation and Simulation. The Michener Institute of Education at the University Health Network

ALEX MERMIKIDES

Guildhall School of Music and Drama, London; edited Performance and the Medical Body (Methuen Bloomsbury 2016)

MARION BOGO

Professor in Social Work,
University of Toronto
(Presenting via video call)

